

Galloping Horses

- ① Soga Shōhaku painted a herd of galloping horses using abstraction, creating a clear impression of each horse with a few strokes of his sumi ink brush.
- ② Click on this link to read about the basics of sumi ink brush techniques. Watch this video to see how horses move when they gallop. Which animals would be easy or difficult to paint in this style?
- ③ Examine the outlined horses and try drawing the horse or the dog on the next page, using as few brushstrokes as you can. If you prefer, try drawing your favorite animal.
